

Knowing how to use your voice so it makes sense to your dog, using words in a way the dog can understand, correcting him without creating fear, praising him properly, and doing it all at the proper time are critical skills to develop if your dog is to learn from you.

Brian Kilcommons